

Council Members May Vote Selves $25 a Meeting

New State Laws Also Allow Court Appeal to
Up Real Estate Tax

As of Monday, Narberth Borough Councilmen have been given the power to vote themselves a salary of $25 each for every regular monthly meeting. However, borough secretary Mrs. Carl DeHaven Grace said this week she is sure council members will not take such action.

She is also certain that the council will not take advantage of a number of other laws passed by the State Legislature to broaden powers of local municipalities.

These laws, all effective Monday, September 1, include permitting council to appeal to the courts for permission to increase the real estate tax up to five mills beyond the present 15-mill ceiling, and also the setting up of a special veterans' housing authority to provide homes for World War 2 veterans with the authority to issue bonds to pay costs of construction.

Mrs. Grace said that in view of the Borough's reception of the recent school tax increase and per capita tax, she does not think council will consider a real estate tax increase in the near future.

Neither does she think council will set up a veterans' housing authority, because, as far as she shows, there aren't more than two lots available for building in the borough. Besides, she said, there is no drastic call for houses.

One of the laws requiring the presence of the chief burgess at all regular meetings is virtually unnecessary in Narberth, as Burgess Richard L. Miller always does attend the meetings.

Another new law allows newspaper reporters and the general public to attend all meetings of local councils or school boards, except executive sessions, and forbids enactment of ordinances, resolutions and other actions at secret meetings.

Ardmore Man Killed by Trolley

Struck Near County Line
Station; Was Walking Along Tracks

A 55-year-old Ardmore man was killed instantly Wednesday night when he was struck by a Red Arrow trolley a few hundred feet beyond the County Line station in the Haverford Township section of Ardmore.

Police identified the man as Marble Hall, of 144 Simpson Rd., Ardmore, a janitor for the Main Line's "Federation of Churches."

The trolley motorman, S. Miller, 41, of Collingdale, told police he did not see Hall, who was walking along the tracks, until too late to avoid hitting him.

Police said the trolley passed completely over Hall, and that his body, with both legs severed above the ankles, was found afterwards in a ditch beside the tracks.

He was taken to Delaware County Hospital in a police patrol wagon, and on arrival was pronounced dead from a fractured skull and shock. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

Miller was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter, and released in custody pending a further hearing.

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 2, committeemen and interested citizens met at the home of Mrs. Todd Miller, of Merion, to hear Mrs. Richard H. Shryock, candidate for the Lower Merion township school board.

Mrs. Shryock answered questions presented by the audience, and said she would further present her platform when she appears on Friday night at the candidates' meeting, sponsored by the Lower Merion League of Women Voters.

'Darling Daughter' Pleases Berwyn Theatre Audience

Ushering in its fall season, the Main Line Light Opera Company this week is offering the recent Broadway comedy hit, "Yes, My Darling Daughter," at the Berwyn Theatre.

Miss Leatrice Joy scores in the lead role of the matured Greenwich Village Bohemian endeavoring to steer her daughter into the path of conventionality. As the daughter, Virginia Brown steals the show from more experienced troupers. Sensitive and alive, Miss Brown is as captivating in the lighter moments of her role as when she is a tender, lovesick adolescent.

Herbert Duffy, whose rare appearances have set the standard for male members of the Berwyn company, does not disappoint in the part of a worldlywise sophisticate. Hal Currier, Louise Lamont, Leaugey Phillips, and Paul French complete the able cast. "Ladies in Retirement," with Miss Fritz Scheff in the lead role, opens September 8 at Berwyn.—C. A. W.

Legion Proposing By-Laws Change

Bikini Picture To Be Shown After Business Meeting

A softball game, nomination of officers and a color film of the Bikini Atom Bomb Tests, will feature the September meeting of the Merion American Legion Post, next Tuesday at the Merion Tribute House.

The softball game will open the festivities at 6:30 P. M. Later the group will convene in the ballroom, where a report of the nominating committee, led by past commander Harold W. Scott, will be considered.

It is understood that the committee will also recommend the suspension of the office of second vice-commander and the creation of two junior vice-commanderships, the new offices to be filled by non-resident members.

In order to become effective, such a change would require an amendment to the by-laws which would have to be confirmed at the regular meeting in October.

The Bikini film, which will wind up the evening's activities, completely covers the exhaustive preparation made by the Army and Navy in and about Bikini's lagoon. It shows the employment of equipment and scientific apparatus, personnel, ships and planes for the largest and most important tabulated study in history.

Shots of the actual explosions of both "Test Able" on July 1, 1946, the atom bomb dropped from a B-29, and "Test Baker," the bomb suspended in the water, are each exposed from at least six different angles.

The post's first informal "Pop" dance of the fall season will be staged at 9 P. M., Saturday, September 20, in the Merion Tribute House Ballroom, with Jack Rudoma's Melody Lane Orchestra.

The boys admitted stealing a camera from Mrs. Davids. They told police they entered a rear window by removing a screen. They also admitted breaking into the home of Mrs. T. F. Gallagher, 119 City Ave., Bala, on August 30, in the same manner. They took a valuable gold watch and a bank containing small change.

On August 7 they entered through a cellar door at the home of Russell K. Miller, 346 Trevor Lane, Bala. They drilled a hole in the dining-room door, took four rifles and an old-fashioned ball-and-powder gun.

Balwyn Place, which gets its name from a combination of Bala and Cynwyd, will be paved and paid for by the combination of Lower Merion Township and the ten property owners.

The Township is paying for the construction of the road and a sidewalk on the north side, 250 feet long; the property owners are paying approximately $70 each for the curbing.

Balwyn Place was a private road until just recently. Under Public Ordinance No. 886 it became a public lane. A few attempts were made to pave the road previously, but since all the residents didn't own their property at that time full cooperation was lacking.

Balwyn Place extends west from Bala Ave. to a circle of eight detached stucco homes. The street is 20 feet wide, to be paved with asphalt, and will have a granite curb on either side.

Mrs. Alexander Lindsay, Jr., of No. 1 Balwyn Place, reports that all the residents of the "Circle" are delighted with the improvement the paving will make to the property, and attributes this project to the cooperation of all the owners.

CHOOSING A CAREER:

Evening School Opportunities

By JOSEPH E. COOKE
Saint Joseph's College

After their war experiences, many Veterans returned to their families and homes to face new responsibilities. The years spent in the Armed Forces had set many of them back in their ambition to obtain security in a troubled world, and their immediate problem was to get a job. Other Veterans had married during their time of service, and their mustering-out problem was how to provide adequately for the future. In either case, the majority of Veterans had to find at once a stable means of income, a permanent job.

On the other hand, many of these same Veterans, realizing the advantages of education as seen in the war years, were desirous of taking advantage of the educational benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

To take care of this large crowd of education-conscious Veterans, many of the colleges and universities throughout the country have broadened their program to include Evening and Extension Courses. Now, such Veterans who have to carry a full-time job can work for a college degree at night. Most of the applicants are interested in the Business and Social Science fields.

In addition to the degree courses many schools offer a certificate program. This program is shorter than the degree course and aims to give practical training to interested employees to prepare them immediately for their professional job. The certificate course generally concentrates on Accounting and General Business. The training has been found to be invaluable for operators of small businesses, office managers, personnel managers, supervisors, private secretaries and many others who see the value of a wide knowledge of the nature of business and its mode of operation. In this way, the colleges and universities are doing their share to help those who have given unsparingly of their time and service to the nation in a time of crisis. The bills that must be met each month demand a full-time job, but this consuming necessity does not prevent their improving themselves in their free time.

It is to be noted also in connection with Evening Schools that very often men and women are not interested in a college degree or professional training but only in improving themselves mentally and culturally. For this type of student, the colleges offer a wide variety of cultural subjects, including Sociology, History, Public Speaking and Psychology. Contact with the college selected will give precise information of their offerings.

CHOOSING A CAREER:

Preparatory School Advantages

By DR. MANFRED E. LAPAYOWKER
Principal, Lincoln Preparatory School

Success that is permanent is always the result of careful planning. It is never pure luck, nor the product of some force outside ourselves. A successful career represents the co-ordination of native talents which have been developed. For this reason, scholastic mortality among college students can in most instances be attributed to a lack of careful planning. Too many applicants for college fail to lay a solid basis upon which to build during college life; their preliminary training is inadequate for the professional objective they have in mind.

A preparatory school curriculum conditions the student for the demands of any career—professional or business—through a program that is designed to provide broad cultural training. Such a curriculum completely taxes the capacities of young men and women, and thus brings to light their innate capabilities. When these have been discerned and the student is aware of the gifts nature has bestowed upon him, he is then in a position to measure them against the demands of the various professions to which he may aspire.

Essentially then, he is brought face to face with a knowledge of what he himself has to build into a career. It is simply because the educational requirements of a College Preparatory Course are so general, that these results are possible. Languages, sciences, mathematics, social and cultural subjects run the entire gamut of youthful tastes and aptitudes. And in this environment young men and women have full opportunity for the development of native talents that point the way to a specific career and its specialized training. It is only when our aptitudes have been discovered and developed that a foundation has been laid upon which the superstructure of a career can eventually be erected.

CHOOSING A CAREER:

ELECTRICITY

By SYDNEY LAHN
Pennsylvania Institute, School of Electricity

Electricity is the career! —For any young man interested in a steady, substantial income... For high school graduates who prefer to earn money after only a year of additional training... For the returning serviceman who wants "something better" than the job he had before the war.

And especially for the man who wants to open his own business with a small cash investment. Because the only equipment he needs is a desk, a telephone, and a kit of tools.

He may not set the world on fire the first six months but, too, he won't starve in an expensive office until people begin noticing the shingle on his door. Many, who have tried to hire an electrician in the last few years may verify that statement.

The reason is that more and more this world is becoming a world powered by electricity. Hundreds of household devices and practically all machinery used in business and heavy industry are run by electricity. They are built and maintained by electricians. Chances are that electrical equipment will increase in years to come. This means that opportunities for employment of electricians will increase as well.

The practical advantages of electrical training over purely academic training can hardly be measured. Once a man becomes a skilled electrician, he possesses a money-making trade which he may practice all his life. He need not cast about to find a field in which to work after his final education is completed.

Even the merchant or factory supervisor will find that a course in electricity has better prepared him for his job. He has learned how to read blueprints, he knows how to cope with mechanical problems of manufacturing and merchandising and he is familiar with the point of view of the laboring man.

All of this follows, assuming the electrician has been well-trained. If his education in electricity has been thoroughly grounded in theory and practice, if he is familiar with simple and complex equipment, if his instructors were men of wide experience with a talent for explaining clearly the knowledge they possess, the student of electricity cannot help but succeed in the business world.

NARBERTH'S ANNIVERSARY SECTION

Mrs. Ruth W. Grace Has Held Boro Secretary Office 17 Years

When Mrs. Ruth W. Grace applied for the position of secretary in Narberth's Borough office, she told Borough officials she knew absolutely nothing about the work, had no office training, but that she did want the job.

Now, 17 years later, it would be hard to stump her on any question on Borough government or business.

Mrs. Grace was born in Baltimore, Md., where she attended the Convent of Notre Dame. After a year at the City of Baltimore's Teachers' Training School, in 1918, she married Carl DeHaven Grace, Supervisor of Perishable Freight for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

They moved to Narberth that year.

Their son, Carl De Haven Grace, Jr., was recently discharged from the Army Air Corps, in which he made 16 trips over the Italian front and is now in the advertising department of the Philadelphia Electric Company. Their daughter, Betty, is Mrs. John E. Oatis, of Indianapolis, the mother of two children.

On February 17, 1930, Carl, Sr., who had just been transferred to Williamsport, was fatally stricken with a heart attack. It was quite a problem for Mrs. Grace to support two growing children, a mother and an invalid father, and the day of the funeral, Mrs. Grace saw an ad for a job on the front page of "Our Town."

The ad had been written by Robert Wood, then chairman of a special committee to find a secretary for the Borough office, Edward S. Haws and Clifford Bates were the other members of the committee before whom Mrs. Grace appeared when she applied for the job. There were nine other applicants but Mrs. Grace was given the chance to "grow with the office" because she needed the job. She started out by answering phone calls which began to pour in on Narberth residents learned there was some one who would listen to their complaints and who could pass them on to the right person. Before Mrs. Grace's advent to the office, Council was generally run from the members' business offices.

One of the things which had long been on the list of Borough housewives' complaints was the incineration of the garbage collection. With someone in the office all day the garbage men could now make a check each day on whether or not anyone's collection had been inadvertently skipped.

In 1935 the tax collector's office was established in Borough Hall, and Mrs. Grace was made Deputy Tax Collector, which allowed residents to pay their taxes at any time. Previously, taxes had been paid either by mail or on Saturday mornings at the bank, the only time Tax Collector Edwin P. Doid could be in town.

Until 1937, Charles Nold had taken all the minutes of the meetings of Council, but upon his death that year (he was killed while fighting a fire in his line of duty as Borough Fire Chief), Mrs. Grace took over that job, too.

Here is one of the three signatures required on all Borough checks and ordinances. She signs all bond issues, and takes care of the official records of the Borough.

The same year she began to take minutes of the meetings of Council she was made official Secretary of the Borough and has sole charge of the Borough Seal. Other duties include sending the Borough budget to the Department of Internal Revenue, keeping accounts in the official ledger, and seeing to it that the fiscal budget is prepared each year.

In addition, she has to have a thorough working knowledge of Borough affairs, and is in constant communication with all residents of the Borough.

Eleanor McClay Will Be Bride Friday Evening

Narberth Girl to Wed Evanston Man; Plan Trip in Trailer

A home wedding on Friday evening, September 5, at 7.30 o'clock, will make Miss Eleanor McClay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Houston McClay, of 215 Essex Ave., Narberth, the bride of John Edward Wray, son of Mr. Edward Wray, of Evanston, Illinois. Dr. Gordon H. Clark and Rev. John Patton Galbraith, cousin of the bride, will officiate.

The bride will have as her matron of honor and only attendant, her sister, Mrs. Klaudius Kulper, of Wynnewood. Mr. Wray will act as best man for his son.

A reception for about 40 guests will follow the ceremony, after which the couple will leave for a ten-day wedding trip to Canada.

Upon their return the newlyweds will live for fifteen months in a trailer, traveling through Eastern and Midwestern States. After that they will make their home in Chicago.

Miss McClay is a graduate of Lower Merion High School, and Wheaton College, in Illinois. Her fiancé was graduated from the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology.

Laura M Propper Becomes Bride of Bernard C. Cohen

On Monday, September 1, in the Keneseth Israel Temple, Philadelphia, Miss Laura M. Propper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Propper, of 37 East Princeton Rd., Cynwyd, became the bride of Bernard C. Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Cohen, of Northampton, Mass. Dr. Malcolm Stern performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an off-white gown featuring a fitted lace bodice, long pointed sleeves, a square neckline, and a full satin skirt. Her veil of illusion was held by a mother-of-pearl skull cap, and she carried a white orchid on a mother-of-pearl ribbon.

Serving as maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Florence Hoffman, of Brookline, Mass. She was gowned in a pink model with a full skirt, fitted bodice, cap sleeves, and a high round neck. Mother-of-pearl beading edged the neckline, and trimmed the hip-line of the skirt. In her hair she wore a floral piece of deep red roses, and carried a bouquet of matching flowers.

Robert Cohen acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers included James Propper, brother of the bride, and Milton Cohen, another brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which the couple left for a two-week honeymoon in Canada. Upon their return they will live in New Haven, Conn., where the bridegroom is attending college.

Mrs. Cohen is a graduate of Roxborough High School, and the Women's College of the University of North Carolina. Mr. Cohen served for two years with the U.S. Infantry in Italy, and is now a senior at Yale.

Fall Campaign to Open for Main Line Branch of CARE

In a little town in Greece arrives a package containing ten pounds of lard. In a small village of the Provencal, 25 pounds of flour is deposited on the doorstep of the schoolmaster. An expectant mother in a two-room apartment over a Prague meat-market finds in the morning mail a complete layette, containing all the articles needed for receiving and clothing a new baby.

On the side of each package is marked four letters which have become beautifully familiar to the starved, the ragged, the needy of Europe: "CARE."

Standing for "Co-operative for American Remittances to Europe," those letters represent the grouping of relief agencies in this country which have taken up the cry of European relief where UNRRA was forced to leave off.

Miss Elizabeth W. Towle, of Old Buck Tavern, Bryn Mawr, announced this week the opening of the fall and winter campaign for the Main Line branch of CARE.

In the drive which gets under way on September 4, the local committee plans to stress contributions made, not to individuals, but simply to the needy in any specified country or area.

Thus, although many take advantage of the chance to send packages to cousins or aunts, or brothers in Europe through CARE, it is possible to designate your gift, "for the children of France," "for residents of the Warsaw ghetto," "for the older folk in Helsinki."

Through the headquarters at the Main Line Co-operative in Bryn Mawr, or through the Philadelphia outlet, at Lit Brothers store, or through New York headquarters at 30 Broad Street, New York 4, 13 packages available. They run the gamut from the 25 pounds of flour or 10 pounds of lard, at $4, to the layettes or household linens, blankets, infant's food or special food packages, at $10.

In this way, Miss Towle points out, many persons who might otherwise get no packages because they have no friends or relatives in America will be saved from starting anxiously at the regular packages received by more fortunate neighbors. "Certainly it is commendable to be able to take care of relatives in Europe," the tiny ex-school-ma'am said, "but equally important are the millions who can look only to a friendly unknown for succor."

Assisting Miss Towle on the local committee will be Miss Emma G. Kunze, of 6389 Woodbine Ave., Penn Valley, in charge of the Sale of Wreaths and Cleveland Ave. in Narberth; Mrs. Spencer V. Smith, of 8 Louella Court, in Wayne; Mrs. Walter E. Black, 630 Ardmore Ave., in Ardmore; Mrs. Gilbert T. Hoag, in Haverford; and Mrs. J. Henry Scattergood, in Villanova.

Police Probe Train Deaths

Two Are Killed in West Manayunk

Lower Merion police and Reading Railroad detectives are checking more than a score of trains to attempt to ascertain which freight engine was responsible for the death of two men near the West Manayunk freight station early Monday.

Relatives identified the men as Raymond F. Garrison, 37, of 4402 Baker St., Manayunk, and Charles L. Swan, 43, of 468 Leverington Ave., Roxborough. They were pronounced dead by Dr. Anthony C. Mesmer, Lower Merion police surgeon, who said both men died of fractured skulls and internal injuries.

"We checked most of the trains that travelled over the tracks Sunday night and Monday morning, but could find no evidence that any of them struck the two men," Detective Captain William Shaffer, of Lower Merion, said. "However, we have not given up and a more minute search of engines will be made during the week."

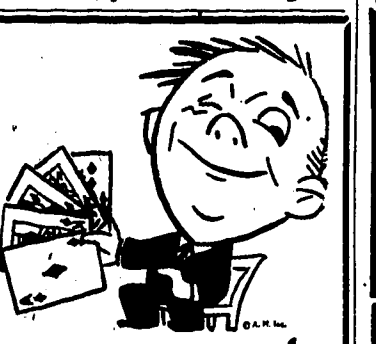

He added that a third man, found sleeping near the death scene, could offer little aid to the investigation. This man, who identified himself as William McLaughlin, 55, of River Rd., West Manayunk, told detectives he had the men to a "wine party" at the home of a relative on Saturday night. Sunday morning, with the half-gallon wine supply gone, the three men went to a curate drug store in Manayunk where they bought two bottles of rubbing alcohol.

McLaughlin said the three sat on the railroad bank drinking the lethal brew which they cut with water from a nearby spring. McLaughlin was released by police Monday evening after being questioned.

Lightning Strikes Penn Valley Home

During the height of last Saturday's storm, lightning struck a chimney at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ghezzi, at 808 Conshohocken State Rd., Penn Valley. Mrs. Ghezzi told Narberth firemen that the bolt dislodged a brick from the chimney and it fell, breaking a bedroom window. Mr. and Mrs. Ghezzi and a house guest were home at the time.

Ghezzi, a broker, is a brother of Vic Ghezzi, prominent local golfer.

DOUBLE, DOUBLE—KEYS CAUSE TROUBLE

Because he had two sets of keys to his car, Joseph F. Coffey, 64, of Philadelphia, was arrested for drunken driving in Wynnewood on Friday night.

Lower Merion police said that Coffey was stopped first in Bryn Mawr by Patrick Ryan, a postman, to whom he surrendered one set of keys. He wove on down Lancaster Pike, starting the car with a duplicate set in his pocket. Police on Lancaster Pike took note of the erratic course of the car to his car, Joseph F. Coffey, 64, of Philadelphia, was arrested for drunken driving in Wynnewood on Friday night. Lower Merion township police surgeon, said he wasn't seeing double—but pronounced him intoxicated anyway. Coffey later admitted that he had "had a little whiskey—but it was medicinal, officer."

Rogers Returns In Arena Rodeo

ROY ROGERS

Roy Rogers and his world's champion rodeo will open an eight-day engagement at the Arena, 45th and Market Sts., on Sept. 3, and about that time—or even before—there will be plenty of discussion concerning the origin of rodeo, how cowboy competitions began and what makes up a cowboy's "world series."

There is no authentic history of the sport. From the lips of older cowhands and ranchers come a fairly accurate account of the development of the rodeo, which began back in the early days of the West when great herds of cattle grazed over unfenced millions of acres of land.

Cattle of one rancher strayed across "imaginary" boundaries and mingled with the cattle of another. Each ranch had its own registered brand, which was burned into the hide of its cattle. Twice a year, ranch owners brought their cowboys together in one big crew and only for the purpose of separating each owner's cattle from the other but to round up brand, and cut out the fattest cattle for market.

When this thrived together, it was natural enough for the cowhands of one ranch to banter the others. So it was at the close of these roundups that the cowboys would stage contests to prove their riding and roping abilities. The first planned cash prize contest was held at Pecos, Tex., on July 4, 1883.

Morgan Livingston, top hand of the NA Ranch, won the first prize in the steer roping contest and received $25 in cash. There will be $8000 for cowboys to "shoot at" during the Rogers Rodeo at the Arena.

Narberth Court Title Captured By Overbrook

In another league playoff game staged Wednesday, West Philadelphia evened the score by overwhelming Overbrook, 40-35, as Artzin scored 18 points. Moor Mullin was big gun for Overbrook with eight points.

Former Hawaiian and Junior Nat. lottal titleholder, and boxing champion of Schofield Barracks when he was in the Army, Sakata amazed the judges by the close competition he gave to experienced weightlifters John Terpak and Bob Spelman who took first and second place for the York Barbell Club.

Wayne Drexel Hill Win In Main Line Playoffs; Manoa vs. W. Chester

By HARRY ELLSWORTH

Wayne and Drexel Hill moved in to the semifinals of the Main Line League baseball playoffs as a result of the Labor Day weekend play.

The Italian-Americans defeated the defending champs, Narberth, in two straight games while the Hill-ers were routing Berwyn in two games of their best-of-three series.

Manoa, a heavy favorite to eclipse
West Chester, downed the Zecher team, 12-4, on Sunday only to lose to the aroused W. C.'s 7-3 on Labor Day, to make a third and deciding game necessary.

This rubber game of the C series will be played at West Chester this Saturday afternoon. Should rain postpone the game, Manoa will play host on Sunday afternoon at Veterans' Field.

According to present plans, the team holding the highest regular season percentage will be awarded a bye and will automatically enter the league championship finals.

Should Manoa take the West Chester series, it will gain a bye and Wayne and Drexel Hill meeting for the right to play the Manoa-winners for the title. If West Chester triumphs, Drexel Hill gains the bye and Wayne and West Chester will play in the semifinal round.

Weather permitting, this semifinal round will get underway on Sunday afternoon at either Wayne or Drexel Hill, depending upon who wins the third West Chester-Manoa game. Like the preliminary games, this will be a best-of-three series.

Wayne, in knocking Gene Davis out of the running, displayed two pitchers in the game, Harry Desert and Johnny Byrne. Desert limited the Narberth nine to four hits in a 6-1 decision at Wayne on Sunday.

The big right-hander pitched a no-hitter until the sixth inning, when Allie Shuckman, who bagged a 400 season's batting average, touched Desert for a single. George Brown, with four straight singles, and Harry Yarrow, with three hits and three runs batted in, paced the Raiders' 12-hit assault on Charlie Gunther and Albie Becker.

Playing before a large crowd at Narberth on Sunday, Byrne limited the Drexel Hill nine to five hits in out-pitching the Narberth fastball ace, George Davidson. The two moundains were locked in a bitter pitching duel after both teams scored single tallies in the first inning.

What ultimately proved the winning run came over in the eighth.
The bespectacled Byrne walked,
went to second on Dimagistris's
sacrifice, and took third as Brown hounced out to shortstop. When Adelizi, Narberth first baseman, negged wild on a third trying to get the Wayne pitcher, Byrne scored.

The Gavin Gang added three more for insurance in the ninth frame. Ray Edelman scored. Ace Bell with a long double off the leftcenterfield fence while Johnny Byrne scored Edelman and Norm
Swigler a few minutes later with a Texas League single over shortstop.

Drexel Hill's sluggers made mercy at the expense of Berwyn pitching as the Hillers leveled the Pirates, 11-4 and 9-6.

In the first contest, the Irwin club hustled Don Caniglia for eight runs in the eighth inning to break open a tight 3-1 contest. Larry Aig-eldinger with four hits and Roy Selby with three, paced the 10-hit attack. Gene Conway, who scored Carter, who entered in the ninth, scattered 10 Berwyn hits.

Both clubs garnered 11 hits on Labor Day, but Drexel Hill took four runs in the third to take a 5-3 lead that the Pirates never overcame. Although beset by a few rocky moments, Lefty Jack Creany pitched a strong game, limiting the Hillers to four runs in the first inning.

Creany, Drexel Hill, 2-0, in an abbreviated five-inning contest on Saturday to clinch the Eastern Division's first place honors. Nick Pinchuck bested tall Cliff Williamson as rain halted play after five innings.

A walk to Jack Miller and Vince Signorelli's single gave Manoa a run in the first. The second run was scored in the second inning
when Gil Gekoski, Drexel Hill, made a home run off the pitcher's arm on Bob Poletti's single.

Osborne's long home run surprised Manoa, 7-3, on Labor Day. White, a

M. L. Pitching, Batting Crowns Won by Hillers

Drexel Hill's hustling baseball team produced both the individual batting champion and the pitching champion of the Main Line League, according to the official statistics,
just released by Walter Hanley,
league president.

Jack Williams, Hillers' first baseman, romped off with batting honors with an average of .435, getting 27 hits in 62 times at bat. He also led the circuit in doubles with eight to his credit.

Jack Creany, diminutive Hillers hurler, won the pitching title with eight victories against not a single defeat. Nick DeFrank, of Manoa, also was undefeated, but he won only one game, Creany pitched in 14 more innings in registering his extra victory and thereby was voted the championship trophy by the league.

Gil Gekoski, Manoa catcher, finished second in batting with an average of .408, collecting 31 hits in 78 times at bat. Third place went to the 1946 champion, Al Shuck-man, of Narberth, who finished with a .400 average, hitting safely 30 times in 75 trips to the plate.

Pete Caniglia, of Berwyn, set a rugged pace the last month of the season to take fourth with .383. John Janish, West Manayunk, and Norm
Selby, Drexel Hill, were next in line with averages of .379 and .376, respectively.

Selby led the league in hits with 35 and also in home runs (four) and stolen bases, 14. Bill Sobczak, Nar-berth's outfielder, set the pace in runs batted in with 29 seven more than Ace Bell, of Wayne.

Strikeout king was George Davidson, of Narberth, who fanned 104 as he won eight games and lost four. Harry Desert, Wayne's mound ace, won the most games, nine, but lost three decisions.

And incidentally, just because the Boroughites were knocked out of the playoffs for the first time in recent years, don't blame it on their cherry-cheeked lineup. Old residents are apt to charge it against their inexperience. But bark ye!

Albie and Charlie Becker, Nar-berth's pitcher-catcher combination, displayed plenty while leading Narberth's home-town talent. The mounders were locked in a bitter pitching duel after both teams scored single tallies in the first inning.

What ultimately proved the winning run came over in the eighth.
The bespectacled Byrne walked,
went to second on Dimagistris's
